

APPLICATION FOR

SPECIAL CONSIDERATIONIntroduction

MIT is dedicated to providing fair, equitable, consistent and transparent assessment practices for all students. Occasionally, due to illness or adverse personal circumstances beyond their control, students may be prevented from:

- completing an assessment task by the due date or attending an exam, or
- completing an assessment task to the best of their ability.

In recognition of this, MIT has set in place procedures that allow students to apply for special consideration for those assessments they believe are affected by any of the above circumstances.

Students may also use this special consideration form to apply for reasonable adjustment. Reasonable adjustment is the process used to ensure that a student with documented special needs is still able to attempt the assessment requirements of a unit by modifying or adjusting the assessment without lessening the quality or demand of the assessment.

Eligibility for special consideration

Students may apply for special consideration if unanticipated events during the trimester (e.g. illness, bereavement, personal trauma) impact the student's ability to attempt or complete an assessment item to the best of their ability. Students who are uncertain about their eligibility should contact the Academic Manager or Student Support Officer.

Overseas students

Visa status for overseas students whose enrolment is deferred, suspended or cancelled may be affected. Overseas students in this situation should speak to the Student Services Manager.

Special consideration will NOT be considered for students:

- who fail to note correct assessment dates/times/venues
- who take annual leave/personal holiday during trimester/assessment period
- with high workloads/increased hours from employers or other organisations
- who anticipate a change of employment
- who attend events (e.g. conferences, weddings) at the time the assessment is due
- with computer related problems (unless supporting evidence from an IT service is supplied)
- who submit incomplete or inadequate supporting documentation
- who submit requests outside the designated time frames

While this list is not exhaustive, it outlines common reasons where students will not be granted special consideration. Each application will be assessed on its merit.

How do I apply for special consideration

Students wishing to apply for special consideration should contact Reception to make an appointment with the Academic Manager prior to the upcoming assessment event or within 24 hours of the relevant incident.

Prior to the meeting with the Academic Manager students should:

- Complete the Application Form for Special Consideration electronically, save the form and email it to the Academic Manager.
- Attach any Medical Practitioners Certificate and/or any other relevant documentation (e.g. Death Certificate, legal documents, etc) to the application. Please note that any Medical Practitioner Certificates must be issued before the assessment due date and cover the date of the assessment or be issued on the date of the assessment. Medical Practitioner Certificates issued after the assessment due date will not be accepted.
- Submit the form to MIT prior to or within 24 hours of the relevant assessment.
- Make a copy of the application and all relevant documentation to be submitted.

Applications for Special Consideration will not be considered after the above time frame unless evidence can be provided that the request could not be submitted within the time frame.

Applications submitted via email will not be accepted. Students should only submit the relevant documentation to the Academic Manager.

How is the application processed?

Please note that special consideration is not automatically guaranteed and every application is individually assessed. The Student may be required to meet with the Academic Manager to discuss the application. After this meeting, the application will be submitted to the College Director for review. Timely consideration is given to every application, after which the Academic Manager will notify the student in writing of the outcome.

Possible outcomes of a special consideration application

Applications for special consideration must be made using the special consideration form as soon as possible before the due date of the assessment (or within 24 hours after the event). Options for students may include:

- deferring the assessment to the next study period the unit is offered
- sitting the exam at another scheduled date
- completing an additional assessment item
- having their assessment grade or final grade adjusted, or
- having extra time to complete their assignment (or complete a different assignment if available)
